

The First International Program Global World Communicator Education and Science

---

The International Council of Scientists (ICS)

The International Council of Scientists (ICS) is an independent and non-governmental organization that brings together professors and scientists from around the world. This is an organization of highly qualified individuals who have their own opinions on the development of higher education and science, technological and humanitarian progress.

The main purpose

of the International Council of Scientists (ICS):

- attracting of professors and scientists from different countries in the development of criteria and methods for assessing higher educational institutions;
- conducting assessments of various areas of university activity by highly qualified experts.

Activities of members

of the International Council of Scientists (ICS):

- participation in discussions and surveys within online conferences on GWC Program projects;
- discussion of problems proposed by members of the ICS Council;
- attracting highly qualified specialists to the work of the ICS Council who can help achieve the goals set above;
- participate in the processes of ranking and classification of various areas of activity of universities.

The activities of the ICS Council are carried out remotely. Working language is English.

Today, the Council has more than 1,250 registered members from 41 countries. We invite interested professors and universities staff to join our team.

Contact: info@cicerobook.com, ics@cicerobook.com

---

Developer:

icd group

Internet Communications Development